

(52-117) TRAJAN, MARCUS ULP IUS

Roman Emperor. Born in Spain.

Although a great part of his reign was spent in gratifying his warlike ambitions, he by no means neglected internal affairs.

He maintained impartial justice, managed the finances successfully. Built military roads, bridges, canals and suppressed the Christians as political enemies.

Trajan's column, built in 114, may still besen in Rome.

114-116

DURANT

Traitors Campaigns against PAR+HIA

A.D. 114

The Romans about A.D. 114
gave C the curved form
it has today.